The business men of Burns don't show the interest they should in public affairs. They are liberal and progressive but allow too few to take the lead and assume the responsibility of public improvements in which all are equally interested.

The Times-Herald hopes to see the necessary changes in the charter to provide for a bond issue for water works and sewer system made and submitted to the voters. If the original committee appointed for that purpose do not act at once get one that will. All seem to favor such an amendment but do not seem to take sufficient interest to see that it comes before the voters in the right way.

It is gratifying to find so many people throughout the entire county commending the action of the county court in providing for a new court house. We have heard of no one objecting to the move in fact. It is right and the time has arrived for better accommodations and safer housing for our public records. It is in keeping with the general advancement of the country which demands better public buildings.

Extremely Sad Death.

Mrs. E. J. Stanton died at the home of Mrs. Will Cummins in this city yesterday afternoon, the immediate cause being pneumonia. She had been a sufferer from childhood with a nervous disease that would finally have taken her life, but the end was hastened by complications. She had recently had scarlet fever and upon recovering was brought to this city from Lawen Wednesday to be near her physicians, the exposure caused pneumonia.

Mrs. Stanton would have been 18 years old next month, being the daughter of the late Harry McClure. Her mother died of rheumatism and heart trouble a little over a year ago and her father died last September from heart trouble leaving six orphan children. Mrs. Stanton was married last June.

Her little brother, Walter, aged 9 years, was brought up from Lawen with her and he also has pneumonia but is improving quite satisfactorily.

The funeral of Mrs. Stanton will be held at Harney but the time has not been arranged at this writing.

TOM RICHARDSON FAMOUS.

"At last you are able to stand in the presence of real greatness," said Tom Richardson, entering the promotion bureau offices at the Commercial Club yesterday with a square package under his arm. "I have waited a long time to become really famous, and now my wildest dreams are realized."

"What is it?" queried the chief of the publicity bureau from behind his typewriter.

"Wait and see," said Richardson, dumping his package upon the desk and beginning to tear off the wrappers.

Off came the last covering of papers, disclosing a cigar box, this was quickly pried open, disclosing an imposing row of trim brown cigars. The real glow of the display was the picture on the lid, however.

It was a bust portrait of Mr.

Richardson, faithful to the life, and the inscription: "Tom Richardson—The Empire Builder." "I got 'em from Lewiston, Idaho, today. Have one," said he as he passed the box around. "I guess none of our popular actors, or baseball players, or statesmen have got anything on me now."

"Just the same," he added, as he started to spread the good news and the cigars over the club, "it wasn't half bad of the cigar-maker in Lewiston to fix me up this way, was it?"—Oregonian.

IRRIGATION PROJECT FINANCED.

The Bully Creek irrigation project covering some 30,000 acres of fine land over in Malheur county, has been financed through the efforts of Judge Geo. E. Davis, who has just returned from Chicago. Water rights will cost $80 per acre payable in 20 years. The first payment is due three years after the water is turned on.

We congratulate our neighbors and hope the reclamation will begin at once. Harney county has some very attractive irrigation projects that will be taken care of now that the railroad is pushing in. The cost in these projects will not be as high by one-half, perhaps, as the Bully creek projects.

PREPARING FOR BIG WORK.

A letter from Frank Gowan, who is at Vale, written to his father, states that the railroad contractors are very active but as yet no real railroad work has commenced in the canyon but there are over 250 men and teams fixing wagon roads and transferring supplies and equipment to the camps.

According to such information as he has secured Frank thinks there will be big crews put on the work as soon as the camps and equipment are on the ground. It seems to be the impression that there will likely be 4,000 men put on the work within a month. This would indicate that the line is to be rushed as rapidly as possible.

The last copy of the Engineering News just received contains an item stating that the Oregon Electric Railway Co. (Hill road) of Portland would extend an electric line across the state with feeders to various points south and north. That paper also states that the Oregon & Eastern had made application for a charter in California, the intention being to extend down to Weed. The latter may refer to the Naton cut off of the Harriman line. The Engineering news is considered authentic and shows that the Hill system contemplates more work in Oregon. Should it be an electric line it would prove economical and means rapid construction.

There has been two cases of diphtheria in the home of C. T. Miller in this city. The oldest daughter, Ruth, took sick some three weeks ago and her physicians suspected it was diphtheria but were not certain from a microscopic examination, and when a second case appeared they isolated the family and sent specimens to the state board for more particular examination, receiving a telegram yesterday that it was diphtheria. The family is under strict quarantine and the other children have been treated with antitoxine with the result that none of them have taken it.

The heavy, wet snow caused the electric light and telephone wires to come in contact yesterday and put both out of commission until they were fixed.

This weather puts the wood dealer on the bum.

ALL FAVOR WATER AND SEWER

The mass meeting of citizens at the court house to hear the reading of the report of Engineers Cooper & Dodge on the estimated cost of the establishment of a system of water works and sewer in Burns showed a decided sentiment in favor of bonding for such a purpose.

Estimates of the possible revenue from the water system showed it to be a business proposition that would be almost self-supporting. The revenue would more than pay the interest on the necessary bonds and possibly would include maintenance, therefore would not necessitate any extra tax upon the city unless it be to start a sinking fund for the purpose of paying off the bonds.

Another feature is the fact that the efficient water system would reduce fire risks and the insurance rate very materially, thus working to the saving of many dollars by the business men of the city.

A resolution was adopted showing the sense of the meeting that the city authorities prepare and submit to the voters at the annual election in March the necessary amendment to the charter providing for bond issues covering such expense. This will be prepared and submitted. It is hoped the large property owners will take sufficient interest in this important matter to see that it is properly prepared and carried.

FROM COLLEGE TO FARM.

A few years ago we saw a young man who had been reared on the farm where wheat had been the main staple produced. His horizon of thought at that time was limited to the experience of his days on the farm and a common school education. So far as making farming his life work according to old methods, there was not much to attract and keep him on the farm.

This young fellow made up his mind to take an agricultural course in the college in order to find out whether he could improve on the old methods of his father. He has been studious and alert and his mind has been broadened to a remarkable extent. We saw him but a few days since and we scarcely knew the fellow. He is a gentlemanly appearing young man, with an earnest eye and a buoyant, business-like air about him. The possibilities of farm life are now to him something glorious. Already the income from his father's farm has been increased one-third. The farm home is more to him than ever before and he intends just as soon as he completes his course, to return to the farm and make the place produce better results.

Once in a while an old timer is found who ridicules the idea of college farming, but he is getting to be rather scarce these days. He does not realize what a back number he is. If he will but awaken and devote a week to the investigation of that which has been accomplished within the last decade in soil and crop improvement in every state in the Progress is being made in the campaign to interest children in agricultural education in Oregon. State Superintendent Alderman is sending out letters to breeders and producers of the state asking for prizes to be awarded to school pupils who shall make the best exhibits of farm products at the fairs next fall. C. D. Nairn, of Amity, has been the first to respond and he will give a thoroughbred Scotch collie as a first prize for an exhibit of vegetables, corn, etc at the State Fair.

union, he will find out what advanced methods are accomplishing. Besides, the good work has just fairly begun. If he knew it, he is far behind the Chinese as an agriculturist. A short study of the reasons why the Northwest has been brought into such prominence as a fruit country, should convince him of the great benefits to be derived from advanced methods. Slipshod, haphazard methods in all lines of business are fast beginning to be a thing of the past, and the business of farming is no exception to the rule.—Deschutes Valley Tribune.

The "mysterious" disease that has caused the death of hundreds of horses in eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho has been diagnosed by Prof. E. F. Pernot, Oregon State Bacteriologist, as nothing more nor less than hydrophobia. A thorough investigation along scientific lines has proved that the diagnosis is correct. The fact that disease symptoms of hydrophobia are
